J. T. WATERHOUSE

We are expecting a large invoice of China from the factories in France and England. The goods will be of the same fine quality that we have always carried in stock.

To make room for the new and get rid of the old we offer at less than cost odd pieces in French and English China. These comprise Teas, Coffees, Breakfast or Dinner Plates, Vegetable Dishes and every thing else in China used on the table. They are not in full sets but in odd pieces. This is the first odd piece sale we have held and you get a great benefit if you take advantage of the opportunity presented. There are not many pieces, and the first customer gets a bargain.

CHILDREN'S CLOTHING.

Scoop Bonnets For Little Girls—Simplicity of Costume Most Desirable.

All fancy wool goods of bright and light colors are employed for children's wear, also taffeta, foulard, serge and satin mervellous. Then there are batistes, plain and printed muslins and embroidered lawns. Mohairs must not be omitted from the list of juvenile fabrics, for many pretty as well as serviceable gowns are made of this brilliant and durable material.

Very small children are dressed much alike without regard to sex. Sometimes the frocks worn by boys are a little less full, the blouse is longer, and less trimming is used, but it is quite permissible to clothe tiny boys and girls in the same way, except in the matter of headgear. Scoop bonnets are confined to little girls' wear, boys having sailor hats or caps or some other simple form. The scoop bonnet has been very happily revived. It is picturesque, and it shades the eyes and face from the sun and protects them from the wind. It is trimmed profusely with lace or guipure over silk or of silk, the trim being of lighter material, ruffled and puffed. These elaborate ones are adorned with large silk or ribbon bows or clusters of ostrich tips, but plainer bonnets are composed of batiste or muslin and are quite as becoming to the little wearers as the more costly ones and much more suitable. Simplicity of material and style and exquisitely fine finish are the most perfect taste for very little children's garments. It is a great pity that climate and convention require them to be clothed at all, they are so graceful and beautiful; but, since they must be covered, let the covering distract the eye from their natural loveliness as little as possible.

A sketch is given of a costume for a girl of 14 years. It is of Scotch plaid, with a light ground. The skirt is trimmed with a narrow drape of blue velvet, held in place by bows of velvet. The full bodice is crossed in front and mounted on a yoke of white guipure, which is low at the shoulders. The full sleeves, of plaid, are of elbow length and terminate in a frill of guipure. A blue velvet ribbon outlines the yoke and is gathered into a ruche across the shoulders. The belt and collar are also of velvet. JUDIC CHOLLET.

Current Fashions.

Boleros and jacket bodices are now to be seen in velvet and other heavy goods.

The separate bodice of silk which has replaced the summer shirt waist tones rather than contrasts with the color of the skirt.

Skirt trimmings are gradually coming into fashion.

American women are beginning to look with favor on bracelets which their English cousins have long considered coveted possessions.

Numbered with up to date luxuries are gold glove buttons, handkerchief holders, stocking supporter clasps, suspender buckles and safety pins.

The most popular of all personal ornaments is the finger ring. There is no limit to the number worn. The solitaire, cluster and hoop rings represent fashionable styles.
